

PROPOSES WORLD FEDERATION BILL

Sen. McCumber Has Measure Authorizing President to Take First Steps.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—A growing sentiment for action by the United States that will bring world condition making impossible a repetition of the Titanic struggle of nations which is now devastating Europe has developed in Washington, particularly in congress.

The terrible effects of the European war have led to a more or less concerted effort in congress to make plans under which the United States will take the initiative in a world movement for the organization of a federation of nations which will draft a code of international law and make provisions for the final disarmament of the nations. A dozen or more bills and resolutions authorizing the president to take steps toward getting the nations of the world together have been introduced in congress and are now before various committees.

Sen. McCumber of North Dakota, is the author of a concurrent resolution which is being passed before the senate foreign relations committee by a large group which believes that action should be taken at once. Some of the advocates of international disarmament are of the opinion that no effective work in the direction of a world agreement can be taken until the close of the European war, but the supporters of the McCumber plan assert that the ground work should be laid at once. The McCumber resolution would provide:

Authorizes Executive.
"That the president of the United States be and he is hereby authorized and requested to call a convention of all of the nations of the world to meet at Washington at such time as he may designate, for the purpose of drafting a code of international law and rules of international conduct shall apply to all the nations of the earth. Such code and rules shall be adopted and agreed to by such nations and will be enforced under a joint agreement by all of the nations against any one or more which shall disobey the code and regulations so adopted. Provision shall be made for a permanent international legislative assembly which shall from time to time enact such further international code, rules and regulations as in their wisdom may be necessary to preserve the rights of all nations, with provisions for the continuity of the legislative body.

Such legislative assembly shall provide for a general court of arbitration for the settlement of all international disputes, and the power of all the nations shall be exercised to compel the submission of such questions to arbitration and the enforcement of the judgment of the tribunal.

VIENNA HAS MANY UNWONTED TASKS

Care of Babies Has Brought New Organization Into Existence.

THE HAGUE, April 7.—Vienna, once so gay and spruce—has many unwonted problems to solve today and it solves them or attempts to solve them, in the true Viennese spirit. The care of babies whose fathers are at the front, for instance, has brought into existence a Society of War Godmothers, which has had no less than 6,000 babies on its books.

It claims to have reduced the infantile mortality from 20 per cent. to three per cent. The society needed money for its life-saving mission. It obtained the money in a characteristically Viennese way. A play was produced. The heroine was a godchild who, when grown up, went to work in a factory. All in good time it appeared that the heroine's father had given his life for that of the factory owner's father, so the maid and the owner were united in wedlock.

This play, cleverly staged by first class artists, gave some interesting pictures of the war and of the famous Skoda gun works. With lively music and sentimental scenes all Vienna flocked to see it and so the war-god mothers got their money.

Million Fugitives.
There is another exhibition in Vienna just now, very different, but not less interesting—an exposition got together by the government to show what has been done for the fugitives from Galicia and Bukovina.

The fugitives are said to have numbered no less than 1,110,000. Many have gone mad under the load of suffering and anxiety. Some 610,000 had lost every cent they possessed. One hundred and ninety-two thousand inquiries have been made for missing relatives and two-thirds of these remain unanswered.

The cost of caring for these luckless victims of the war has already amounted to 279,504,000 kronen. In the barracks of the fugitives 236 schools have been opened and 97 technical classes.

The Austrian censor sees to it that we hear little nowadays of the racial disunity which exists in the polyglot empire of the Hapsburgs, but Hungary has a parliament of its own and there curious incidents are constantly coming to light.

Attacks Premier.
Count Michael Karolyi vented the grievances of the Hungarian nationality was being suppressed in every possible way and hung bitter taunts at Count Tisza, the premier, for his failure to obtain satisfaction.

The incident which led to the scene was a typical one. A squadron of Hungarian hussars were, it appears, drawn up in front of the barracks at Presburg with two Hungarian national flags at their head. The Austrian major, Theodor Roman, appeared and ordered the flags to be taken away. They were, in fact, bundled into a cart and marched off with little respect.

Hungarian national sentiment, always touchy, was aroused, and the bitter scene in the Budapest parliament was the result. Count Tisza tried to make good his case by asserting that the flags were too big and overshadowed the regiments' colors. This small incident and the heat it aroused is typical of the sensitive relations which exist between Austria and Hungary.

Anti-Bellum Shipping.

Shipping after the war is not a problem which excites very greatly the lighthearted Viennese, but an interesting and suggestive article on the subject has appeared in the Neue Freie Presse from the Director of Navigazione Libera Triestina. He estimates that after the war there will be 5,000,000 tons less cargo-space available than before the war. If, he says, it is possible to build 1,000,000 tons in addition to the usual output of about 2,000,000 tons, the shortage will be overcome in about five years. He thinks that possibly three years may be sufficient if the purchasing power of the nations is sufficiently reduced to lessen the demand for luxuries.

The real way to overcome the difficulties will, he thinks be found, not so much in state interference as in the establishment of a sort of clearing-house to which all owners would have to belong and which would direct and control all freights.

BLACKHEADS GO QUICK BY THIS SIMPLE METHOD

Blackheads—big ones or little ones—soft ones or hard ones—on any part of the body, go quick by a simple method that just dissolves them. To do this get about two ounces of powdered norexin from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—and wash off. You'll wonder where the blackheads have gone. The powdered norexin and the hot water have just dissolved them. Finching and squeezing blackheads only open the pores of the skin and leave them open and unsightly—and unless the blackheads are big and soft they will not come out, while the simple application of norexin and water dissolves them right out, leaving the skin soft and the pores in their natural condition. You can get powdered norexin at any drug store and if you are troubled with these unsightly blemishes you should certainly try this simple method.—Adv.

ARREST "BLUE MOON" EDITOR FOR FRAUD

Federal Inspectors Allege He Duped Aspiring Writers Through the Mails.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Alexander Jessup, who described himself as an editor and author, was arrested Thursday by postoffice inspectors and held for trial in the federal district court here on a charge of using the mails to defraud. Jessup's accusers allege he duped aspiring writers in a new literary swindle.

Jessup, it is charged, inserted advertisements in magazines, soliciting contributions for his short story magazine, "The Blue Moon," when manuscripts were submitted to him. Jessup, it is charged, suggested that he be paid varying sums for his services as editor. The government claims "The Blue Moon" magazine is a myth.

GRATIFIED OVER AIR RAIDS ON ENGLAND

Swiss Newspapers Near Zeppelin Headquarters Do Not Mention Women and Children.

GENEVA, April 7 (via Paris).—The newspapers of Friedrichshafen and other points near the Zeppelin headquarters express great satisfaction over the recent air raids over England. In their comment, however, the newspapers made no mention of the women and children and other non-combatant victims. The newspapers stated that the raids will continue throughout the spring with London as their principal objective.

YOUR SPRING TONIC

To take a tonic in the Spring is only aiding nature. Everybody needs it. Confinement to the home, the store, or the office, during the winter months has reduced our vitality. You are beginning to notice that Tired Feeling. Nothing alarming. You simply need a Spring Tonic, a Bracer, something to tone up the whole system, cleanse the blood, start up a healthy circulation and regulate the liver.

Mothers! Here's Something New For Croup and Cold Troubles

An External Treatment That Does Away With Internal Medicines and Chest Protectors. You Can Let the Children Run Outdoors in All Weathers and Get Their Needed Fresh Air and Exercise.

Growing children need plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and a prompt application of the new southern treatment—Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve at the first sign of trouble. "Vap-O-Rub" is really a Vapor-Lump in Salve form. You simply rub it well over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the clothing loose around the neck, as the body's heat releases vapors of Menthol, Camphor, Pine Tar, Eucalyptus and Thyme that are inhaled all night long, loosening the phlegm and opening the air passages. In addition, Vick's is absorbed through the skin, taking out that tightness and soreness.

The local druggists could make more profit on internal medicines, but they realize the value of an external treatment, especially in the case of small children, and, in the interest of their customers, are offering "Vap-O-Rub" in any of the three sizes—35c, 50c or $1.00 on 30 days' trial. Your money back if you are not delighted.
